

LAND BATTLE IS IMMINENT

Japanese Are Advancing In Three Columns
Upon The Russian Position Today.

CZAR'S SCOUTS ARE IN THE DARK

Oyama Veils His Objective Point In A Wonderful Manner---Just Where He Will Strike Is As Yet Unknown.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Tokio, May 20.—A report from the front states that three Russian columns advanced southward on May 18th to the vicinity of the railroad. The Japanese engaged them and drove the Russians northward. Five hundred Russian cavalrymen attacked the Japanese field hospital at Kangpin and were dispersed with a heavy loss.

A General Fight

Gunshu Pass, May 20.—A general engagement is imminent. Oyama is deploying his heavy forces against the Russian left and contracting his troops along the center, but his base is opposite Linovitch's right. It is not yet clear which wing is making the demonstration and which will deliver the main blow. It is evident from Linovitch's preparations that he intends to accept a decisive battle.

The Japanese are advancing in three columns from Kalyuan, Changtufu, and Fakumen. In the eastern field the Russians, who retreated from Tungshau and Singking after the battle of Mukden, rallied at Wanghaotse, forty miles north of Tungshau, but subsequently withdrew north of their advanced position, being now at Liu-hocheh, fifteen miles north of Wanghaotse. Their main position is at Hailunghing, where Gen. Paterloff commands. A battle is expected soon at this place also.

Apparently the columns that are advancing along the Fakumen, Changtufu and Kalyuan roads must encounter a strong line of Russian positions along the range of hills and the high river banks about ten miles southwest of Fenghuang.

The Russian front extends for twenty miles on both sides of the railway. The opposing front extends for twenty miles on both sides of the railway. The opposing armies are in close touch.

Japs Ready to Attack

Gunshu Pass, May 20.—The Japanese are showing every evidence of preparation to assume the offensive, constantly shifting positions, and pressing the Russian left, where the cavalry forces are daily exchanging shots. The demonstration on the Russian left, however, is probably only a feint to cover the real strike at the right. This is thought more probable because of the care with which the Japanese are screening the movements on their left, using Chinese bandits freely for this purpose. The attempts of the Russian scouts to pierce the curtain have not been successful. Profiting by past experience a new system for the transportation of wounded men from the battlefield by means of pack horses has been organized. Experiments have shown good results.

Tells of Outpost Attacks

St. Petersburg, May 20.—A dispatch from Gen. Linovitch says:

"A small detachment of the enemy on May 16 occupied Yandi pass on the front of the armies. The Japanese also attempted to occupy Shahotse, but were repulsed and retired southward. The same day the Japanese approached Honukhu, about six miles south of Taul, but were forced to retire."

Battle May Be Delayed

Paris, May 20.—The apparently complete disappearance of the Russian far eastern fleet leads to the belief either that a battle is imminent or that Admiral Rojestvensky has succeeded in establishing a naval base. On the other hand, it is pointed out here that the position of the fleet May 18 in latitude 13:30 and longitude 111:30 indicate that it might have been decided to follow a course north of Luzon into the Pacific instead of going through the straits of Formosa, where Admiral Togo is believed to be waiting Admiral Rojestvensky.

It is maintained the Japanese difficulties have been increased by their inability to determine whether the Russians are proceeding unaided or have divided their fleet into two squadrons. Some experts maintain that the fleet has been divided for the purpose of permitting one division to reach Vladivostok, while the other occupies the attention of Admiral Togo.

Naval circles here are disposed to criticize the Japanese tactics in failing to harass Rojestvensky's transports during the lengthy period of taking on supplies. The results of Rojestvensky's movements are being awaited with intense interest in official quarters.

est when he started out on his campaign. He called first on Mr. Roosevelt. The president turned him over to Mr. Taft, after explaining that he had no desire to stir up internal dissensions, but that he thought it was time to do something. Mr. Taft said the same thing, adding that if congress was afraid to assume responsibility he was not. He said congress had twice refused to speak out in favor of American concerns, and drew on the war department records to prove his statement.

Mr. Taft said, with some warmth, that if this double negative action meant anything, it was that American firms were not to be favored at a financial sacrifice. Mr. Cannon admitted the inaction of congress, but in extenuation pleaded campaign necessities and other considerations. He said that now that the subject had been brought right to the front there was no doubt that congress would speak out plainly in favor of American manufacturers, and he pleaded that it be given another chance as matter of urgent party expediency.

Promises Early Action

He promised that if his wishes were acceded to he would see that the question is brought up as soon as congress meets in October and promptly settled.

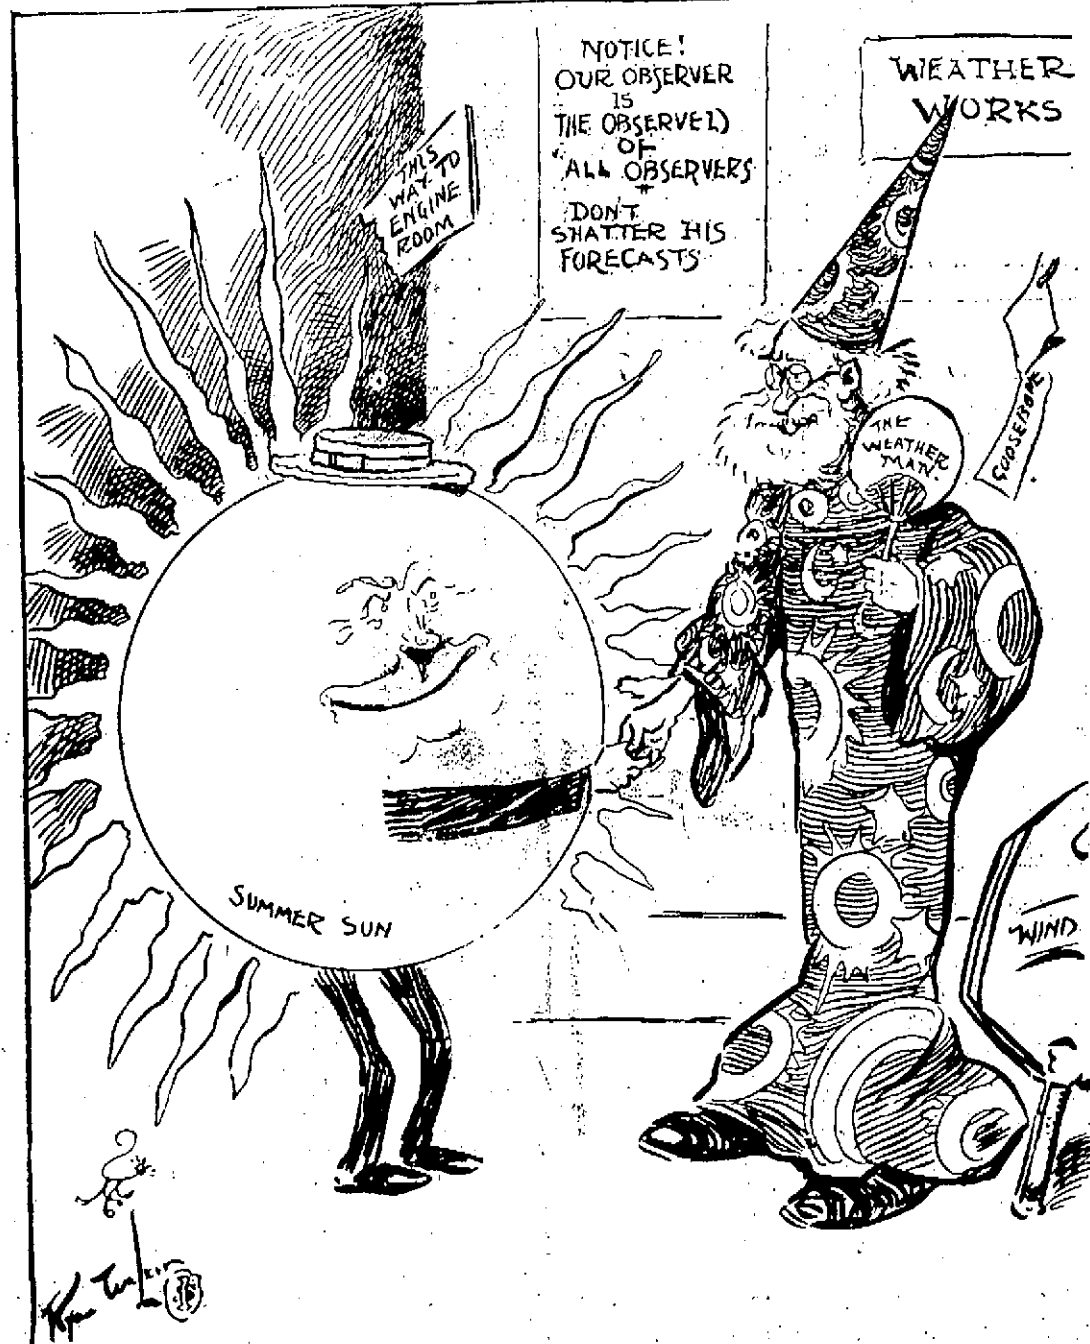

One result of the new arrangement will be to put new life into the movement for a ship subsidy. The advocates of that measure already are lining up their forces, and are confident of success, for they argue if congress directs that American manufacturers be favored in the purchase of canal supplies it cannot refuse to favor American ship owners.

STRIKERS END THE BIG STRIKE

Accept Terms Of The Employers And Will Go Back To Work At Once.

PEACE AFTER WEEKS OF VIOLENCE

Levi Mayer Makes The Announcement That Peace Has Come At Last--Both Sides Claim
The Victory.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Chicago, May 20.—"The strikers have accepted our terms and will go back to work as we want them to," announced Levi Mayer, the attorney and spokesman for the Employers' association, this morning, immediately after a conference at his office with the labor leaders. This is the employers' official announcement of the ending of the strike, which was predicted yesterday. The terms proposed to the strikers were re-instatement of union men as soon as expedient. The employers claim a complete victory. A different claim is made by the unions. They declare the settlement was practically agreed upon but the acceptance of the employers' terms by the teamsters' committee may be repudiated by a referendum vote by the unions, after the teamsters' joint council has passed upon the proposition. There is little probability, however, of such opposition to a settlement.

Met at Noon

At noon twelve members of the Employers' association were closeted in Attorney Mayer's office with President Shea and fifteen members of the teamsters' strike committee. It is understood the details of the strike settlement are being finally determined and that the agreement is being signed.

At the conclusion of the conference the labor leaders and employers at one o'clock this afternoon it was announced the proposed plan of the strike settlement would be formally submitted to the teamsters' joint council tonight for ratification. It is understood this course was taken in order to permit the unions to act officially upon terms and make the announcement of a settlement first to their members.

Terms of Settlement

The conference was asked for by Mr. Shea, who represented that he desired to discuss terms of a settlement. In response to a request from Mr. Shea, Mr. Mayer outlined the following terms among others as a basis for a settlement:

"All strikers will be taken back as fast as vacancies occur without discrimination, except as to those guilty of violations of the law.

"The express companies will adhere to their decision not to re-employ any of the strikers.

"Employers' Teaming company will continue doing business, along the lines laid down when it was organized.

"A calling off of the strike will be followed by policemen and deputy sheriffs being relieved from further strike duty.

"No non-union teamster will be discharged to make room for a striker."

President Shea was notified by Attorney Mayer that the employers would settle the strike on these terms. "practically all, fully 98 per cent of the striking teamsters to be taken back."

"Declaration by the union leaders that the strike is off without conditions."

"Removal of the deputy sheriffs, police and armed guards thirty minutes after the strike is declared off."

"Granting of privilege of teamsters to belong to union and to wear their organization badges at work."

"Re-employment of the strikers as fast as possible without any discrimination."

"At the conclusion of this conference, which resulted as outlined by Mr. Mayer, Mr. Shea returned to a meeting of the Teamsters' Joint Council, where he had presented his report. The council adjourned about 2 o'clock after having ratified the proposals for ending the strike."

Union Wants Concessions

Cornelius P. Shea, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, and A. J. Reed of the Furniture Drivers and Helpers' union, who had discussed settlement plans with Attorney Mayer Thursday night, asked the latter for a further conference Friday night.

"They had demanded an understanding regarding concessions to be made by the employers before putting their proposition to end the strike before the teamsters' joint council," and Mr. Mayer was to meet them again to give some assurances as to what the employers would do with regard to taking back their former employees.

When the teamsters' officials met Mr. Mayer again, the latter was not in a position to speak as to details, and in consequence messengers were dispatched for members of the executive committee of the employers' association.

May Take Back Strikers

"It was stated authoritatively on behalf of the employers in the course of the conference that the latter will not be a party to any arbitration; that the employers' association stands exactly where it has stood from the first, but, nevertheless, it has been agreed by many of the 'struck' firms that they will take back their former union employees as rapidly as possible."

The principal question at issue at the midnight conference was as to the extent which union men will be taken back, and the agreement of all the firms identified with the employers' association to enter into an understanding with the union leaders."

REVISE POLICY REGARDING CANAL

LISTEN TO SPEAKER CANNON

President Roosevelt and Secretary
Taft Yield to Leader's Plea in Order to Avoid a Split in Ranks of the Party.

Washington, May 20.—The president and Secretary Taft have reconsidered their determination to purchase canal construction supplies in foreign markets whenever it was found that they could be bought more cheaply there than at home.

Speaker Cannon took a hand in the affair as the champion of the exclusive American purchases, no matter at what price, and so vigorous were his arguments and so threatening his declaration that the announced policy would, if carried out, cause a disastrous split in the party that he virtually brought Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft to his terms.

Congress to Decide

Under the agreement congress will decide whether the Panama purchases shall be made in the open market or confined to home manufacturers. Mr. Cannon promising an early decision. Until then only such supplies as are immediately needed, which will be comparatively small, will be bought and no foreign built ships will be purchased.

There is no limit as to where the materials that will be required during the next five months shall be bought, but it is understood that foreign purchases will be avoided if at all possible. Mr. Cannon calls this decision a victory; the president and Mr. Taft speak of it as a compromise, involving only a concession to the "high protectionists." They say that the president accomplished his purpose by "throwing a scare into those who regard the tariff as sacred," which they profess to believe will result in the modification of some of the schedules at the next session of congress.

CROP CONDITION IN THIS STATE

SECRETARY JOHN M. TRUE IS SUES HIS LAST REPORT.

THE RAINFALL IS EXCESSIVE

Land Too Wet for Good Results To Be Expected This Early in The Season.

John M. True, secretary of the state board of agriculture, has prepared a report regarding the condition of growing crops and the comparative acreage of the principal farm crops of the present season with that of last year. He has secured information from the crop correspondents in various sections of the state. The report follows:

"The weather of the past month has been favorable for the growth of winter grains, clover and the grasses, also for the germination of spring grains sowed. Soils have been in excellent condition, friable and easily put in fine form for seed. The stands of oats, barley and spring wheat are satisfactory in most localities, though some complaint is made of the inferior quality of seed oats, resulting in a thin stand. Notwithstanding the high price of seed, we are pleased to note that the usual amount of land has been seeded to clover, and the present sufficiency of soil moisture insures a good 'catch' and vigorous early growth.

Excessive Rainfall.
"During the past few days the rainfall throughout the state has been excessive, and much of the land is now too wet to be worked, preparatory to planting corn and late potatoes. In the southern division of the state more or less corn planting had been done previous to the rainy period and had favorable weather continued the crop would have been generally planted before the 20th. The central division will be from three to five days later, while the northern division can hardly hope to do much planting before June 1st. Should the weather soon become favorable and good seed be planted, the outlook for the corn crop is not necessarily discouraging. Farmers who have not yet planted should not fail to test their seed before planting. In the estimates of comparative acreage of crops with the past season, we noted a continued falling off in winter wheat, rye and spring wheat, and a reduction of acreage of potatoes and tobacco, with a marked increase in acreage of barley, oats, meadow, pasture and sugar beets. Fruit is generally reported in promising condition. No severe frosts have occurred since blossoms were developed. Under the head of condition of crops, we report the following percentages, 100 representing a high average condition:

Stout Law Will Be No Legal Bar Yet

Tippling Can Continue Under This Law Just as It Always Has Done Before.

Is tippling under what is known as the anti-graft law a violation? Attorney General Sturdevant says the question is a hard one to answer. The law aims at the practice of paying commissions to employees of large stores, or corporations whose influence goes a great way in the purchase of goods. When money is used to influence a man in his master's business it is a violation of the law, says Mr. Sturdevant as he recalls the act and if this can be applied to the tippling practice then it too becomes a violation. A violation of the law is made a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $500, or a fine and imprisonment for a year. It is understood that the original bill did not aim at tippling, but it has been contended that technically the same is included. A law against tippling the barber, bootblack, waiter, porter and those others who give extra service for a tip would be welcomed by many. Probably not a few of those who have been in the habit of showing their appreciation of special attention with a tip, will discontinue this habit on the pretext that it may be illegal.

Comparative Acreage.
Southern division—Winter wheat, 90; rye, 100; clover, 103; timothy meadows, 100; pastures, 99; fruit, 96.
Central division—Winter wheat, 88; rye, 93; clover, 101; timothy meadows, 90; pastures, 97; fruit, 93.
Northern division—Winter wheat, 97; rye, 100; clover, 103; timothy meadows, 100; pastures, 98; fruit, 97.

From these statements we make the following estimate of total acreage of crops in the state, compared with last year:

Winter wheat, 82; rye, 97; spring wheat, 97; barley, 105; oats, 102; corn, 79; potatoes, 93; meadows, 102; pasture, 102; sugar beets, 113; tobacco, 92.

Plant Beds Look Well, and Time for Planting the Fields Will Soon Be Here.

Though the week was rather a lazy one in the tobacco market and among the leaf growers, the amount of business transacted showed a slight increase over that of the previous week and the healthy condition of the plant beds will force the busy season upon the grower soon. The weather has been a little cool, but the winds have not been dry and the rains were frequent, placing the plants in an excellent condition, considering the time of the year. The seed germinated beautifully and plant beds are now crowded with a wealth of healthy and strong rooted sprouts.

DRY IRRIGATION OF WESTERN LAND

MILLIONS OF ACRES ARE TO BE CULTIVATED THIS YEAR.

MANY EXPERIMENTAL PLACES

Careful Attention Will Be Given to This New Phase of the Western Situation.

Denver, Colorado.—The most widespread movement in the history of the country for the development of irrigated lands in the West is in progress this spring in Colorado. Hundreds of thousands of acres are being brought under cultivation as the result of government and other irrigation projects, but aside from this a plan far greater in its scope has been started for the successful use of Colorado farm land without water.

Millions of Acres.
There are 10,000,000 acres in Eastern Colorado which can never be irrigated by water from the rivers of the Rockies, and these vast tracts, at present absolutely arid and unfruitful except for grazing purposes, it is proposed to put under cultivation by the Campbell system of dry farming. This system, adapted from the German by Prof. H. W. Campbell of Lincoln, Neb., is purely the substitution of cultivation for irrigation. Experiments have shown that seven inches of rainfall per year will produce more and better crops of cereals under the Campbell system than can possibly be grown on irrigated land where water is cheap and plentiful.

Experimental Farms.
To prove this to the satisfaction of the farmers of the world more than thirty experimental farms will be established on the plains of Eastern Colorado this year, most of them under the personal direction of Prof. Campbell. Four will be operated by the Union Pacific and the Santa Fe railroads, both of which still own several million acres remaining from their government grants.

Small Farms.
The State Agricultural college at Fort Collins is establishing ten in various sections of the arid district. Boulder county is arranging for one, and a dozen or more will be started by individual land owners and immigration companies. At the present time about 5,000 acres of land within the state is cultivated with only such water as rainfall provides, usually about 14-inches per year, and the crops grown there are the finest and most prolific raised anywhere in the West.

Literary Note.
The anonymous article entitled "What Should College Professors be Paid?" appearing in the May Atlantic is of unusual timeliness and interest. In view of Mr. Carnegie's recent gift, it is particularly valuable that the everyday demands upon a college professor's meagre income should be put in concrete form. This the writer has done from figures carefully tabulated over a period of nine years. The startling conclusions reached justify even larger gifts than Mr. Carnegie's.

AN OLD SAYING.

Showing How Cause and Effect Are Never Far Removed.

It is an old saying "Where there's honey there's bees"—not less true is one which science has coined more recently, "Where there's Dandruff there's germs"—and to push the inference still further we may truly say "Where there's Dandruff cured Newbro's Herpicide has been at work."
The reason of Herpicide's isolation as a genuine cure for Dandruff lies in the fact that it attacks and destroys the root of the whole trouble—a parasitic germ which feeds upon the material which nourishes the hair follicle.

Other so-called remedies are not directed at this true cause of the disease. Accept no substitute, there is none.
Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

McCutchéon, had a cartoon the other day in the Tribune, which told the story of the strike situation in Chicago more vividly than any word picture can paint it.

A mother and two little children stand before an empty cupboard at supper time. The little girl says:

"Mama! Why is papa on a strike? Wasn't he satisfied with his wages?"

"Oh, yes, my child, his wages were all right."

"Well, were the hours too long?"

"No, my child; the hours were satisfactory."

"Well, then why did he strike?"

"Oh, it was a sympathetic strike, my child."

"Sympathy for us, mama?"

The mother did not reply because the answer was beyond her comprehension.

This picture, and the little scrap of conversation attached, tells the whole story of the strike. Similar conditions exist in many homes where loyalty to labor organizations supercedes loyalty to the home.

Men forget, when blinded by prejudice, that the most sacred place on earth is the home, where the wife, whom they promised to protect, presides, and where the children have a right to claim support.

This is the pathetic side of all strikes. The side which receives but little attention because it is seldom exploited.

The papers are filled every day with stories about the number of men who are out and new occasions are of frequent occurrence, but seldom a word about the women and children who suffer in consequence.

The capital which every man possesses is his hands, plus his brain. Ever since the edict was pronounced, "By the sweat of thy brow shalt thou earn bread," it has been the lot of humanity to toil for a livelihood.

Thus toiling is not a curse, but the greatest blessing conferred upon the human family.

With the advance of civilization the work of the brain has steadily kept pace, and there was never a time when it contributed so largely to the work of the hand as it does today.

The exercise of this important faculty is in demand in the industrial world, just as much as in any other department, and the failure to recognize this fact is one of the grave mistakes which labor is prone to make.

A little squad of men go out on a handcar to inspect the track. One of them is selected as foreman. Why? Because he has brain capacity to direct the work.

This same principle applies in every department of industrial life. Wherever men work, some one directs, and the money paid for service is in proportion to the responsibility assumed.

This is a simple statement of fact which every man recognizes, and yet its importance is frequently overlooked.

There are in the United States today 30,000,000 employees working under direction. This great army of men and women is known as wage-workers. They earn all the way from $500 to $5000 per year and they are all capitalists.

They invest time, muscle and brain and when voluntary or enforced idleness comes to them, it comes as a loss which can never be made good.

The man in business may work a year for nothing and lose money besides, as he frequently does. He may be able to pocket the loss and keep on his feet, but not so the wage earner.

Idleness to him means permanent loss, and if he has a home dependent upon his exertions, it means suffering on the part of a helpless wife and children.

Many people are infatuated with the notion, just now, that in some mysterious way the property of the nation will be divided, and every one will share and share alike.

This is the craziest notion that was ever entertained, and if it could be realized, it would prove a calamity, rather than a blessing.

The faithful steward is the man who demonstrates ability for stewardship before responsibility is placed upon him. The man who is unable to work out his own destiny will never have it worked out for him.

The law which says to all men, "You must work for a living, as well as a competency," is an unwritten law, but it is as binding as any statute which was ever recorded.

Of the 30 million wage workers, less than two million are organized in labor unions. It is unreasonable to think that this small minority should dictate to the great majority the policy they should adopt, and yet, this they attempt to do.

The Chicago strike has demonstrated that there are thousands of men scattered over the country who are competent to do the work which the strikers have abandoned, and while these men realize the dangers of the situation, many of them have responded to the call of the employers.

This suggests a significant fact, namely, that the wage earners of the country, as a class, think more of independent manhood, and the right to work and support their families, than they do of an organization which attempts to dictate and control.

Organized labor should learn some important lessons from the Chicago strike. It is doomed to failure, as certain as time is to pass. The industries of a great city can not long be paralyzed and public sentiment will not endorse piratical methods.

The more important lesson, which should be carefully considered by the individual, is the fact that independent manhood is a priceless boon, which no man can afford to sacrifice. When men learn to appreciate the value of manhood and recognize their ability to stand alone, there will be no more sympathetic strikes, but sympathy will center in the home where the wife and children find refuge and where every loyal man finds his paradise.

WISCONSIN MEDICAL LAW.

The Wisconsin legislature will, tomorrow, take up, as a special order, the bill relating to the medical board of the state, and there is promise of an interesting battle. Already the more conservative physicians of Wisconsin realize that a step too far has been taken, and are advising more conservative action. This is not only wise, but is dictated by the necessity of the situation. Minnesota went through the throes of just such a conflict, and the people rebelled just as energetically against the autocratic domination of the medical bureaucratic propaganda until a review of the action of the medical board was secured and retained. The physicians proved that their ethical environment unfitted them to sit as courts of last resort and one noted reversal by Gov. Van Sant marked the beginning of the end of the state oligarchy. The battle in Wisconsin has been much more fierce, but there is every reason to believe wise and conservative counsels will prevail and the independent doctor will retain his rights and privileges, until deprived of them by that due process of law, through the courts, which is provided for in the constitution. A conservative law, at this time, let the medical board be well assured, will be the only means of preventing, for the future, the enactment of a drastic law that will shear the board even of power which might justly be bestowed.—St. Paul Dispatch.

This much discussed bill passed the assembly, by a narrow margin, last Friday night, and will become a law, unless the senate kills it.

It is gratifying to note that the Rock county delegation voted solidly against it, as it has on all freak legislation.

The bill gives absolute power to an appointive commission of doctors, known as the State Medical Board. These men may sit in judgment on any man who may be brought before them. They are the judge and jury, in fact the whole tribunal. It is a dangerous precedent to establish.

If an appointive commission can supersede the authority of the courts, it becomes a monarchy and dangerous in the extreme. The senate will do well to pigeon-hole the measure.

THE RATE COMMISSION.

The rail has gone with the hide, so far as the rate commission bill is concerned, and Wisconsin is in a fair way to repeat the experiences of Iowa, so far as the industries of the state are concerned.

The railroads and manufacturers have protested without avail, and the administration has carried out its program to the letter. The greatest good that can result is in the fact that the governor, who has long been a disturber, can now leave the state.

There is nothing more to be done in the way of damaging legislation and the way is open for him to spring reform movements on the nation.

He will have time to appoint a rate commission before he leaves, and the state will suffer the consequences without this interference.

PRESS COMMENT.

Racine Journal: Wouldn't you like to have a few shares of the Standard Oil stock which has just declared a quarterly dividend of $9 a share or at the rate of $36 a year?

Chicago Tribune: In Kansas City a breeze that merely carries away signs and unroofed small buildings is characterized with fine discrimination as a cyclone.

Exchange: James Hazen Hyde is reported to be an authority on French literature. He is probably afraid to say "chautauque" out loud in company, all the same.

Chicago Record-Herald: It will cost $25,000,000 to have a ship canal from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi River. This seems to be a good deal of money, but the Philadelphia grangers steal more every year.

Evening Wisconsin: Rojostevsky is said to have steamed northward to meet Togo, and Togo is reported to have steamed southward to meet Rojostevsky. They will speak through their guns as they "pass by."

Milwaukee News: Before she was tried for murder, Nan Patterson's services on the stage were valued at about $15 a week. Now she is to get $1,000 a week for thirty weeks' engagement. That's art.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Wisconsin has abolished firecrackers as well as tips. Heretofore, all attempts to re-establish the garden of Eden have been failures.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Senator Depew thinks the president will find it hard to refuse a renomination. But Mr. Roosevelt is the kind of a man who would find it a great deal harder to accept a renomination after having twice said he would decline it.

Oshkosh Northwestern: It is claimed the tobacco trust may carry a case through the courts in order to test the validity of the new anti-cigarette law in this state. As a matter of fact, however, what has the tobacco trust to do with cigarettes?

Exchange: Bishop Potter condemns the X. M. C. A. of Pittsburg for excluding actors from its membership. "I have seldom seen such narrowness," says the bishop. "There is good and there is bad on the stage, as there is in law, in medicine, in Wall street and in other walks of business and professional life. Character is not grouped according to professions or callings."

Ashland Press: The state legislature could do worse things than to pass the measure for the establishment of an experimental farm in northern Wisconsin. An experimental farm on out-crover lands would be of interest to the northern half of the state. Experiments at Madison, under different conditions of soil and climate, are not of much practical value to the northern counties.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The Rolla (Mo.) Sharpshooter has picked Folk for president in 1908, and in case of election it has selected Tom Watson for secretary of war. W. J. Bryan for secretary of the treasury, Governor La Follette for secretary of the interior, and Hogg of Texas for secretary of agriculture. As a matter of fact, however, Governor La Follette may object to thus being classed with the "innards."

Rockford Register-Gazette: On the day that Jessie Bartlett Davis passed away the city editor of the Chicago Chronicle died. Mrs. Davis, obituary notices covered a column or more; the newspaper man was given five lines. On the day that Kirk La Shelle died the European manager of the Associated Press also paid the debt of nature. La Shelle was given much space, the other man not a dozen lines. And yet it is the newspaper men who, in a large sense, make the reputations of the theatrical people.

Chicago Chronicle: At last we are to have a real yacht race—not a mere contest between flimsy racing machines but a competition which will develop the seamanship of the men on the vessels engaged. The Atlantic board. The race across the Atlantic is far and away the finest thing in the way of marine sports, and this generation of men has been reduced to demonstrations of the skill of rival boat builders. Watson in Great Britain and Herreshoff on this side of the water have been the real figures in the contest. The owners, crews and skippers have been subordinate elements.

New York Sun: Neither a poor man nor a rich man is or can be "a gentleman" in America, in the sense of the term as used in a monarchical country or under an aristocratic system of society. The word "gentleman" is unknown to our law. In the sense of expressing moral qualities, the only sense in which it can be used, here, the term "gentleman" applies, of course, to every man entitled, in principle, to receive it as a designation of courtesy, but even in that usage it is a term so vague and indefinite that it is not worth talking about. It may be said, however, never to apply properly to any American who boasts of being a "gentleman" because of an accident of his more American who is troubled in mind just on account of them, he should not receive the title. If anybody in America is not a gentleman it is his own fault.

Milwaukee Sentinel: At the present time of writing the visit to Chicago of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, from which so much was expected, appears to have fizzled out. The main thing to be regretted is, not that Mr. Gompers failed to settle the strike difficulty, for that is very evidently settling itself in a way that promises to clear the air industrially in Chicago for a long time to come, but that he failed to render the cause of the sane and honorable unionism a service by frankly condemning as a representative of such unionism the proceedings of Shea and his followers in this grotesquely uncalled-for and outrageously conducted strike. Mr. Gompers has lost a great opportunity of authoritatively settling organized labor right in the site of the public as to this Chicago situation, and honest friends of labor will regret that he lacked the moral stamina to come in frankly which he knows to be wrong. Organized labor can not afford to rest under the odium of tolerating the vicious and un-American boycott enforced and effectuated by terrorism and violence, and Mr. Gompers knows it. If he knows anything at all of the temper and sentiment of the American people,

Chicago Inter Ocean: Next Sunday will be publicized in Scotland as the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of John Knox. Doubtless the Presbyterian churches all over the world will give more or less attention to the date. It is one which may well be remembered by every American, for John Knox was, in a very real sense, one of the makers of this and other republics. The ancient democracies were never able to govern large populations successfully and righteously. They were always unable to combine centralized efficiency of government with individual freedom. When they tried they always broke down one way or the other. Either the state broke into fragments, as did the Athenian empire, or it consolidated into a despotism, as did the Roman republic. Of course the representative idea was thought of before Knox. But his church was the first to prove that it would work on a large scale and be really representative of all the people. When he began, the British Parliament represented only classes, as it still does to a certain extent. The American Legislatures and Congress, after the brief battle for manhood suffrage had been won, were modeled after the General Assembly of John Knox rather than after the British Parliament. This difference in the basis of the legislative power is what primarily distinguishes the United States from all other nations and what made this the first of large and successful republics.

KANSAS DEBARS PULLMAN CARS

Application for License to Do Business in State Is Refused.

Topeka, Kan., May 20.—The state charter board has refused the application of the Pullman company for a license to do business in Kansas. The company sent a fee of $27.50 with its application. The board announced that an additional fee of $14,927.50 would have to be paid, which is the charter fee required under the law, on the Pullman company's capitalization of $74,000,000.

Cheer a Murderer.
Louisville, Ky., May 20.—A crowd of men and women, a majority of them wage earners, many of them striking garment workers, cheered George Warner, when a jury, impelled to pass on his sanity, had failed to agree.

Battle With River Pirates.
New York, May 20.—A battle with pistols between a squad of New York harbor police and a band of river pirates resulted in the capture of the latter and the recovery of five bags of concha beans valued at $1,000.

WISCONSIN STATE LEAGUE

Wausau 8, Beloit 7

Beloit, Wis., May 20.—The opening of the season of the Wisconsin State league on the home ground Friday afternoon with Wausau was everything that could have been desired except that Beloit lost a hair-raising game in the eighth inning. The crowd was large and enthusiastic. The game was preceded by a parade headed by a band, and Mayor Gaunt pitched the first ball. Score: R. H. E. Wausau. 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 1—8 9 3 Beloit. 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—7 8 4 Batteries—Garlic and Householder; Oathout and Buckwater.

Freeport 4, La Crosse 0

La Crosse, May 20.—Freeport won another game from La Crosse Friday and last night the first four teams were bunched for the leadership. Yesterday's game was noted for free hitting and fast fielding on both sides, but the locals were unfortunate in not being able to bunt their hits. Score: R. H. E. La Crosse. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 2 Freeport. 0 0 0 0 0 3 1 0—4 8 1 Batteries—Jones and Dodge; Malten and Karmell.

Green Bay 8, Oshkosh 5

Green Bay, May 20.—Green Bay broke the spell of bad luck that has hung over its baseball team since early in the season by defeating Oshkosh in the second of a series of four games here Friday by a score of 8 to 5. Score: R. H. E. Green Bay. 1 0 2 0 1 0 0 4—8 8 4 Oshkosh. 1 0 0 2 1 0 1 0—5 6 3 Batteries—Stouck and Connors; Paul Kramer, Yore and Dolan.

Chicago, Ill., May 20.—Northwestern went to win here last game at Ravinia park Friday afternoon against Wisconsin university. The intention was all right, but the purple team did not happen to do the trick, as Wisconsin also had something to say, to the tune of 11 to 3. Wisconsin had the knack of swatting the sphere at opportune moments and the Badgers also used the purple's eight errors to advantage. The score: Wisconsin. 2 1 2 1 2 0 0 3—11 0 1 Northwestern. 0 0 0 0 2 1 0 0—3 1 1

ORIGINATES A NEW GAME FOR GOLFERS

A. M. Valentine's "Handicap Knockout" Will Become Popular if Certain Difficulties Are Adjusted.

A. M. Valentine has originated a new game for the golf club which promises to become popular providing a satisfactory method of handicapping players of unequal ability can be worked out. He calls the game the "handicap knockout." Any number of pairs of players may participate and the game must be played with new golf balls. The first pair plays for the first hole and the loser surrenders his ball to the winner and retires from the game. The winner awaits the coming of the second pair and when the contest between them has been decided plays with the winner for hole No. 2. If the pair break even no balls change hands and they go on together to the second hole while the winner of the first "event" awaits the successful member of the third pair. It will be seen at once that any player who gets beyond the first hole can lose nothing but his temper and no single person can be deprived of more than one ball. Yet there is a chance for the expert player to win nearly a dozen of them. The game has humorous possibilities. Every player must return to the clubhouse, according to the rules, by the shortest route and a consolation committee will be in waiting to soothe his injured feelings and condone with him the loss of his golf ball. The only difficulty arises in arranging the handicap. In all other contests it is fixed for the whole course, while in this one it will obviously have to be apportioned to each hole. This is likely to cause some trouble as the difference in players' ability is with difficulty expressed. A player who ordinarily has a handicap of 3 for the whole course will have to play without any handicap on one of the nine holes. If the first hole, which is one of the easiest, is played even the poor player, who is not very sure of himself is apt to hesitate about competing with the expert and the possibilities of a large crop of balls for the final winner are correspondingly diminished.

Toten Talk

"Good evening," said the tall young man, addressing a lady whom he had overtaken in the park about 8 p. m. The lady replied courteously, thinking him an acquaintance, but looking in his face discovered that he was an entire stranger.

"Oh," she said, "I perceive we both have made a mistake. I thought you someone I knew."

He thought her someone he knew, he said, but even if they were strangers it might be a good opportunity to form a pleasant friendship.

"But I do not pick up chance acquaintances on the street," replied the lady.

"But I thought you looked lonesome," she suggested.

She assured him she was never lonesome, and halted to let him pass on ahead, which he did not do.

Then he remarked in the tone of a cooling dove that he just wanted to call her attention to the beauty of the park, to which she replied that the park was all right.

She was on her way home, he supposed; did she live far away?

"Only a few blocks."

Well, he was a stranger; had just come to the city and was awful lonesome, in fact was out trying to make friends.

She ventured to suggest in a kind tone that he was not pursuing a course calculated to secure that desirable object.

That might be true. He did not intend to offend her, and if she insisted that he leave her he would not urge the matter.

She considered that a good basis on which to part; she said.

About this time he got his second wind and remarked in beguiling tone that there was a seat near the upper end of the walk and they might sit down and get better acquainted and learn to care more for each other.

She assured him she had a large circle of friends which she did not care to increase; that she did not require to know him better, and really had no desire to learn to care for him at all.

This was somewhat crushing but he was "game" to the end. He thanked her most gratefully for the short walk together and brief talk and hoped they might meet again.

Then he bade her good-night with a long drawn sigh and disappeared in the gloom.

Depot platforms are often the scenes of amusing and pathetic little incidents. Last Saturday morning at the Northwestern depot when the 11:45 passenger pulled in from the south the members of the Chicago University track team, who were on their way to Madison, alighted to stretch their limbs. A few of the "A Trip to Egypt" theatrical troupe were also on the platform and one demure little Miss was standing aside with the eyes of the athletes upon her. She suddenly discovered that she had lost her partner and turning about called after him, "Guy!"

The defenders of the Maroon took up the cry and called "Guy," in a half joking, half derisive tone. A sympathetic wit standing near by noticed the troubled expression on the little damsel's face, and offered the remark that "It was a shame to guy her that way."

THE FARM IS A VERY GOOD SCHOOL

By Professor L. H. BAILEY, Head of the Agriculture Department of Cornell University

EVEN if a farm boy has never, perhaps, had much schooling he rises high for THE FARM IS, AFTER ALL, A VERY GOOD SCHOOL. A boy has to do things there for himself. If anything breaks down he doesn't need to call an expert to his assistance. He has learned to do actual things—to solve a problem for himself. He knows, therefore, how to solve the next problem.

And when he goes out into the world and begins his life work he takes hold of first things and readily solves them. All the time you are doing your work here you are SOLVING PROBLEMS. The old idea was to solve problems in a book. That isn't true today. All over the country they are establishing schools of agriculture.

AGRICULTURE IS ITSELF AN EDUCATION WHICH TRAINS AS WELL AS BOOKS TRAIN. THE BEST EDUCATION—WHAT IS IT? IT IS ONE WHICH PUTS YOUR HANDS AND MIND TO WORK AT THE SAME TIME. AGRICULTURE MAKES A MAN THINK FOR HIMSELF; IT MAKES HIM FIT TO TAKE UP THE PROBLEMS OF LIFE.

We have lived in an era of the building of large cities. Boys have run away from farms and have built the cities. But WHO NOW IS TO FURNISH THE CITIES WITH PRODUCTS, WITH THE THINGS WHICH GO TO MAKE UP THE THINGS IN A CITY? So people are going back to the country—to the farms. With the proper application of science and business methods farms can be made to pay as well as other businesses. In the country there are opportunities for almost every one to make AN HONEST LIVING.

This, after all, is the life. And a school of this sort is THE REAL PLACE for you to live in. You are put in touch with real problems of life. You are learning things which are going to be of some use.

Men Have Wrong Ideas About Their Wives

By Professor SIMON NELSON PATTEN of the University of Pennsylvania

THERE is something wrong in the concept of the men of the present day with regard to their wives. THROUGH ALL CLASSES OF SOCIETY EXTENDS THE IDEA THAT THE WOMAN IS A DOLL. Everything tends to relieve her of her share of the work and to make her one of the leisure class. Formerly this leisure class of women included only the aristocracy.

Now those of the capitalistic class who were once large producers have become nonproducers and are imitating the ideas which were once held only by the aristocracy. The wife of the man who belonged to the money class was hard headed and saving, and she helped her husband build up his fortune.

THE ACQUISITION OF THE IDEALS ONCE HELD BY THE ARISTOCRACY HAS REACHED EVEN TO THE WORKING CLASSES, SO THAT A MAN EARNING ONLY $10 A WEEK WILL OBJECT TO HIS WIFE DOING HER SHARE ON THE GROUND THAT HER DOING SO WOULD GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT HE WAS NOT ABLE TO SUPPORT HER. IT IS THE SPREAD OF SUCH IDEAS WHICH HAS SHUT OUT A LARGE CLASS FROM PRODUCTION.

Everywhere we see the tendency for women to go into this leisure class. The wives of men of moderate means devote their time to dress, to travel, to attending the meetings of women's clubs, in going to balls, dinner parties, theaters and bridge whist parties.

THAT MEANS A FALLING OFF OF THE POPULATION. IT CANNOT HAVE ANY OTHER EFFECT. The woman who has no work has no children, because she does not wish to be bothered with them. She does not care for home. ALL HER INTERESTS ARE OUTSIDE OF IT. On the other hand, the woman who toils does so for the purpose of increasing the family income so that she may help build up the home. She has four or five children, where the woman of the leisure class has none. HISTORY SHOWS THAT THE MOTHERS OF THE MOST CHILDREN WERE WORKING WOMEN.

Bachelors Are Abnormalities

By BENJAMIN IDE WHEELER, President of the University of California

IN the long run, WHAT UPHELDS THE FAMILY WILL UPHELD THE STATE. The state cannot exist without the home. If the home is left out none of that solid moral fiber can exist in the nation which must come from home virtues. Good morals are nothing less than the regularities and the ordinances of social life between morals and religion. There can be no dividing line. Good morals are a constituent part of life.

INDIVIDUALISM IS DANGER TO THE STATE. BACHELORS AND CLUB MEN ARE THE BANDITS, GUERRILLAS AND OUTCASTS.

I would be in favor, if it were possible to do such things by law, of A SPECIAL TAX UPON BACHELORS. They don't take part in the moral work of society. They are ABNORMALITIES, and abnormalities should pay the taxes.

The unit of society and the state is the family. Beware of the doctrines which base themselves upon false conceptions of individualism instead of the family, WHICH IS THE ONLY SOCIAL UNIT.

The College Girl as a Wife

By J. M. TAYLOR, President of Vassar College

DR. STANLEY HALL'S statement that the excessive mentality of college women makes them poor housewives is absurd. No heartier, more robust or MORE SENSIBLE women exist anywhere, and there are none so free from morbid or insane fancies or SO READY to meet the responsibilities of life, than they.

THE COLLEGE GIRL IS JUST THE REGULAR GIRL, ONLY SHE IS BETTER TRAINED; THAT'S ALL.

CARICATURE SKETCH OF H. H. ROGERS
Mr. H. H. Rogers of Standard Oil fame. Mr. Lawson keeps Mr. Rogers in more or less of an amiable temper these days.

No Benefit No Cost.

If you are weak and worn-out—if you are nervous, irritable, have headache, backache, neuralgia, or periodical pains, it is because you have exhausted your nerve force.

If you cannot sleep, and are thus robbed of the rest which nature demands for the restoration of mental and physical vigor, your system will continue to run down.

Dr. Miles' Nerve restores vitality by soothing and strengthening the nervous system, thus inducing refreshing sleep, and imparting strength and vigor to all the organs of the body.

There are very few instances where Nerve will not benefit; if not, your druggist will refund the money.

"When I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve I had a very sour stomach, with pain extending far around on my left side—attended with extreme nervousness. I decided to have night sleep. Everything I ate distressed me. Before I had finished one bottle of Nerve there was such a change that my husband bought six more, which has restored me to health."

MRS. JENNIE STIMMS, Lansville, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

Conviction Follows Trial

When buying loose coffee or anything your grocer happens to have in his bin, how do you know what you are getting? Some queer stories about coffee that is sold in bulk, could be told, if the people who handle it (grocers), cared to speak out.

Could any amount of mere talk have persuaded millions of housekeepers to use

Lion Coffee,

the leader of all package coffees for over a quarter of a century, if they had not found it superior to all other brands in Purity, Strength, Flavor and Uniformity?

This popular success of LION COFFEE can be due only to inherent merit. There is no stronger proof of merit than continued and increasing popularity.

If the verdict of MILLIONS OF HOUSEKEEPERS does not convince you of the merits of LION COFFEE, it costs you but a trifle to buy a package. It is the easiest way to convince yourself, and to make you a PERMANENT PURCHASER.

LION COFFEE is sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages, and renders you as pure and clean as when it left our factory.

LITTLE CHANGE IN TRADE WORLD

Teamsters' Strike Is Still a Detering Factor in Business at Chicago.

DEMAND FOR STAPLES IS GOOD

Country Merchants Are Making Satisfactory Sales, Remittances Being Prompt, but City Dealers Are Fighting With Labor Unions.

Chicago, May 20.—The weekly review of Chicago trade published by R.
G. Dunn Co. says:

"The hurtful influence of the protracted teamsters' strike again seriously affected business in the distributing lines, and broken weather also was an adverse factor. Notwithstanding these hindrances, deliveries improved and accumulations of delayed freight were reduced. Production remains heavy, and some of the largest users of metals and wood added to their forward orders. New demands appeared for considerable finished materials, and in addition to the extension of heavy construction much new building is contemplated by current permits.

Wholesale Trade Improves.
"With the ability to ship more promptly the wholesale departments obtained fair bookings in general dry goods, clothing, footwear and foodstuffs. Earnings of western railroads have kept up close to recent gains.
The movement exceeds that of a year ago in iron ore and products, lumber, hides, live stock and provisions. With farmers busy tilling the soil, it is not surprising that the marketing of grain exhibits a sharp falling off and poorer demand may account for shipments from this port, 19.4 per cent under those of corresponding week last year.
Country stores are seen to be making satisfactory sales of seasonable wares, and although mercantile defaults show an increase, collections occasion little complaint.

Gain in Manufactures.
"Manufacturing, as a whole, has not encountered any retrogression. The consumption of iron and steel appears to be steadily expanding, when it is considered that production is forced almost to the limit of capacity and surplus stocks are very light. Receipts of iron ore exceed all previous records and commitments were increased in shipbuilding, rails, cars, structural iron and heavy machinery.
The market was steady in prices for both hides and leather, reflecting good demand, and fair orders were placed with the shoe factories for fall output.

Grain Receipts.
"Grain receipts were 1,581,833 bushels, against 1,981,485 bushels a year ago, and the shipments, 2,787,362 bushels, compared with 3,459,789 bushels. Privations remain in good demand. Export orders bring more numbers. Compared with the closing of a week ago prices are higher, in wheat 5 cents per bushel, corn 4½ cents, oats, ½ cent, pork 25 cents per barrel, lard 5 cents, ribs 2½ cents, and lower in choice hogs 80 cents a hundredweight, and hogs and sheep each 10 cents.

"Failures reported in the Chicago district number thirty-three, against fifteen last week and twenty-four a year ago."

COLORS AND MOSQUITOES.

Experiments Show That the Insects
Are Able to Distinguish Between Hues.

A young girl was talking about mosquitoes. She had spent the summer in a place where there were numerous, relates the New York Herald.

"But I noticed," she said, "that when I wore a yellow dress I didn't get a single bite."

"Did you notice that?" said the young scientist. And then he went on eagerly:
"I am glad you noticed that, for it is a verification of certain experiments that we have made."

"We made these experiments in a gauze tent, and their object was to ascertain the effect on mosquitoes of colors."

"We placed in the tent boxes lined with cloth of different hues, and we found that the little pests crowded frantically into the dark blue box, while the yellow box they would not under any circumstances enter."

"The experiments extended over several weeks. We had in the tent stone vessels for the mosquitoes to breed in.
We discovered that, next to the dark blue, the mosquitoes sought the dark red box. After the dark red came brown, then scarlet, then black, then slate gray, then olive green, then violet, then pearl gray, then white."

"Thus we proved that mosquitoes notice colors, and we formulated two helpful hints for the inhabitants of mosquito ridden districts."

"The first hint is to wear yellow to escape mosquito bites and to use yellow netting for bed canopies and window screens."

"The second hint is to use a blue-lined box if you want to trap mosquitoes.
With this box, in an infested region, you could easily catch and destroy thousands of the insects daily."

British Foxes Made Abroad.

The purchase of foreign fox cubs from importers of wild animals is attended with serious dangers. Wolves, jackals and such like creatures are easily mistaken, in the cub stage, for foxes, and now and then have been sold in England as veritable children of Br'er Fox. This is the true explanation of those sensational outbreaks of sheep worrying during the past few years.—London Daily Mail.

JEWELER'S "DIAMOND TREE"

On Which Tiny Stones Are Made to Grow Into Large-Sized Gems.

"I haven't a diamond tree," said the jeweler. "Smith, over the way there, has one, though. At least, so I've been told."

"What is a diamond tree?"
"It is a tree where diamonds grow, of course."

"No, seriously. What is it?"
The jeweler smiled, says the Chicago Chronicle.

"Well," he said, "a diamond tree is a swindle, a very profitable swindle, and one that can be carried on forever with mighty little risk of detection. I'll explain to you."

"I am a jeweler and you bring me a diamond ring for repairs. I take the diamond out of your ring and I put back into its place a similar diamond that is a little, a very little smaller. You naturally don't discover the trick that has been played on you."

"The same day a brooch is brought to me, and since the central stone of the brooch is a little larger than your diamond, I get rid of yours and keep the bigger gem. In this way, four or five times in one day, I make diamond exchanges, keeping always a better stone than I part with."

"On good diamond trees diamonds as small as pinheads have been known to grow to the size of peas in two days. A good tree, too, won't have only one diamond growing on it at a time. A dozen stones or more will be simultaneously increasing in size and value as the days pass."

WHEN THIEVES HOLD REVEL

While People Are at Easter Mass in Russia the Burglars Help Themselves.

In Russia it is said that more houses are broken into by burglars while the people are at the Easter midnight mass than on any other ten nights in the year. And apropos, the Russian watchman has an ingenious arrangement for letting thieves know when he is coming and giving them time to escape. He carries a huge wooden rattle, which he swings energetically as he advances along the street, giving full warning to timid burglars of his approach, but effectually preventing any drowsiness on the part of the unfortunate inhabitants of the houses.

An Englishman who was staying at a country house in the government of Cherson, and not having been initiated into the meaning of the unearthly racket that disturbed his slumbers rose in a rage at last and opening the window, hurled the soap and other bulky toilet requisites at the head of the astonished and indignant watchman. The latter actually protested, and refused to be comforted until he received a handsome "for tea"—as a tip is called in Russia—by way of compensation.

Bring Messages from Dead.

There is a curious burial custom among the Mordovinians, who inhabit the middle Volga provinces of Russia and are professedly Christians. They believe that a deceased relative forty days after interment returns to his old home. Failing his visible return the next of kin personates him, dressed in his clothes, and professes to deliver solemn messages from the other side of the grave.

McCALL PATTERNS

...ANNOUNCEMENT...

What a Stocking Should Be and Why It Should Be So.

YOU ARE INVITED TO ATTEND THE GREATEST STOCKING

Demonstration this town has ever seen. Stockings should fit—to make them fit, most Stockings have seams; but Stockings with seams are bad for the feet. Most seamless Stockings are straight as a string after washing—they were stretched to look as though they would fit—and the "stretch" washed out!

The only seamless Stockings that fit are the Burson Fashioned Stockings.
They are called "Fashioned" because that is the trade name for Stockings that fit;—tapering at the ankle, widening in the leg, and having a shaped foot. Now, most stockings that have these good points also have seams. The Burson Stockings have no seams—they are knit on a special machine that shapes the leg, ankle, heel and toe, just as neatly as grandmother did with her needles. Because they are thus beautifully shaped to fit, yet without seams, are smooth and comfortable to the feet and wear better than other stockings, they are called BURSON FASHIONED. No other stockings have all these good qualities combined. Lecturers will demonstrate them, next week, at our store.

Foot comfort depends as much on the Stockings as on the shoes. Your foot cannot be comfortable in the best of shoes if your stockings have hard seams, wrinkles and creases. Have your stockings fashioned the Burson way. Come in and learn about them.
